Good afternoon:

I am a single parent and even though I allowed my child's father to have visitation - he never followed the court order issued in 1998. In fact at the present time, he is $20,000+ in arrears to me and he lives his life as a free spirit everyday with no responsibilities. Now I understand the changes that are about to take place but it will not assist women like me who never get a dime and have to struggle for years.

Thank you for listening.
